CREMATION AT THE WOODLAWN CEMETERY

A Tradition of Honoring Those Who Choose Cremation

The first cremated remains were laid to rest at Woodlawn in 1887. As the practice became more popular, so did the practice of creating custom, personalized memorialization options.

Today, Woodlawn offers a variety of ways for any person to memorialize his or her own life or the lives of others in ways that reflect their tastes and beliefs.

Your Choice of Final Resting Places

Woodlawn provides a distinctive selection of final resting places where generations are connected, history is preserved, and loved ones are remembered.

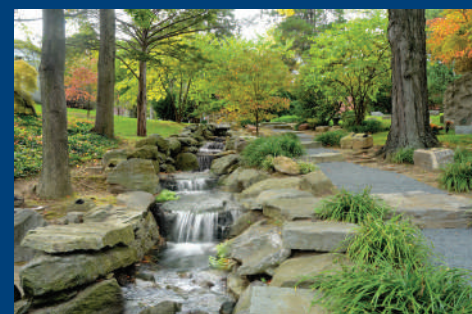

Looking Ahead

Woodlawn strives to meet and exceed the needs of those who choose us as a final resting place. We will continue to be an innovator of cremation options, technology, availability, and memorialization for your loved ones.

Methinks my body is but the lees of my better being.

BROOKSIDE CREMATION GARDEN

This tranquil setting offers both in-ground and above-ground placement. Spaces are blended into the landscape or are nestled into rocks alongside a running brook. Niches tucked into the walls of bridges spanning the brook are also available.

IN-GROUND BURIAL OF CREMATED REMAINS

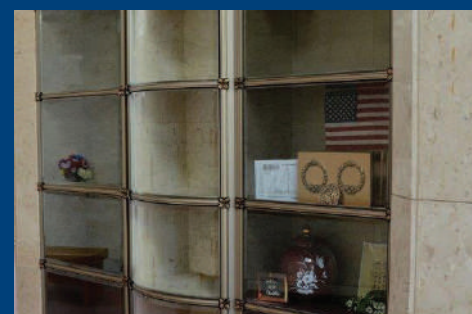

Available in all our in-ground areas.

CREMATION MEMORIAL

A choice for discerning individuals or for entire families, these memorials, built to personal specifications, have become increasingly popular.

COMMUNAL SCATTERING

Remains are scattered in a communal receptacle known as an ossuary. A bronze plaque placed on a memorial wall beside the ossuary commemorates those who rest there.

MAUSOLEUM

Mausoleums are designed for memorialization, including niches with granite, marble, or glass fronts. The glass option allows loved ones to view both the urn and a display of personal mementos.
